Commands, suggestions, advice given by many

The School Board was proposed with many new innovating and thought provoking ideas. Superintendent R. K. Moore worked diligently to make this year successful, along with the School Board led by President Frank Innis. A Challenge for the coming year was a phase elective program in English at FSHS.

Here at FSHS we were led through a CHALLENGING year by Principal Frank Goode and Assistant Principal John Milholland. The Athletic Department led by Mr. Richard Ricker proved FSHS athletically inclined. Whether it be a cut, bruise or headache, Mrs. Hartzell, nurse at FSHS was always there to help. Curriculum problems worried many students; but Mrs. Margaret Gibbs and Mrs. Martha Wacknitz, counselors solved them in a hurry. Students were fed nourishing meals throughout the year as Mrs. Paulita Lipp, planned the FSHS meals and the satellite program.

CAN-CAN Proven to be Henderson's best

Cole Porter's exuberating musical "Can Can" was one of the many highlights of the year. It was said by many that it was the best yet. The cast was led by Senior Jane Robinson who portrayed a proprietress of a house of illrepute in Paris in the 1890's. Senior Steve Bache, played a young judge who fell in love with La Mome Pistache, propriortress. Other major roles included David Sailor, an arrogant sculp- tor, who was in love with Kim Reynolds, an upcoming dancer in the dance hall and laundry of La Mome Pistache. Don Felty played a famous art critic, who was also in love with Kim.

Exchange students found school life at FSHS fun

This year we had 3 exchange students staying with families in the Frankfort area. Nubia Campos of Brazil broke her year up by attending FSHS a semester last year and the first semester of this year. She was living with Mary Eman's family. Birgitta Lindner, who came this fall, is from Sweden living with Cindy Ward and her family. Living with Teresa Miller is Maria Louise Von Zonneveld who arrived this fall from Holland.

Unity proved to be the theme of the '73 ball

The Frankfort ROTC held its annual Military Ball this year on December 16. The Ball which was sponsored by Sword and Shield was financed by money that the cadets made selling concessions during games.

The most important event of the evening was the crowning of the Queen, Senior Rhessa Mark, by last years queen, Carol Pattee. The Cadets this year chose a Freshman, Cindy Ring as 1973 Sweetheart.

Hot dogs we love you: win or lose

Coach Henninger and his Fighting Hot Dogs were defeated for conference by Crawfordsville by a score of 56-12. The Hot Dogs were held scoreless until the second quarter. Nonetheless from there on in, it was all Crawfordsville.

In the float contest the Juniors walked away with the honors with the theme of "I, Frankfort, Take thee C-ville" which they portrayed with a large Wedding Cake. Susie McQueen was crowned the 1973 Homecoming Queen by Steve Bache.

The spirit of things in 73

Many years from now one may look upon these pictures, fondly turning over pages of memories in their minds, reliving the best parts in their lives. The purpose will be, in the time that is to come, to revive many spent memories. These memories may include the Mr. Legs contest, Plays, Big Broadcast, Bonfire, and the everyday happenings at FSHS. No one needs pictures to remember the Spirit of it all, especially at tourney time. Memories of student activities will be with us in this Book, and the spirit will be in our hearts forever.

Talents were portrayed by Students believing in Music

"I Believe in Music" was this years theme to Big Broadcast, Aden K. Long portrayed the theme in a very professional manner along with the help of student directors Karen Turner and her assistant Steve Traylor. This years emcees, were Cindy Ward and Dave Sailor who also sang.

This years show as usual was filled with many talented acts. The performers consisted of many who have previously performed in Big Broadcast along with many newcomers. This years walk-ons were very entertaining. The Broadcast was accompanied first half by the pit band and second half by the stage band. Both bands were under the direction of Aden K. Long.

The same starting five consisting of Seniors Rick Wade, Bush Fullerton, Mike Ostler, Dave Ricker and Junior Ron Best came back again to win the sectional for the second year in a row.

The tourney began for the Hot Dogs by defeating Tipton and Rossville; then finally overcoming the Carroll Cougars in an over-time for the Championship.

Spirit by FSHS fans and determination by the team revealed they worked well together in the 1973 sectional.

CLOTHES, CARS, CLASSES CHANGED AFTER 10 YEARS

CAULDRON — How ya hangin'?

STUDENT — 'bout half.

C — What's happenin'?

S — Hey, this school is really heavy.

C — Yea, but it took us ten years to build this baby. Get with it man! It's "ten years after!" We're using it for our theme this year. It's really heavy.

S — Hey! Can you tell me how you're gonna use it?

C — Do you remember anything about a '56 chevy? Man! Back in '63 you had one of those, man. You were really the dude. But look at the cars the kids drive today. Man you can't even smell a '56 chevy around here today. You'd be luckier to find an Impala or a Cutlass in the parking lot.

S — Yea man, I see what you mean. But what are you gonna do when you have to compare things like fads and clothes, it could be a bummer. Ya understand?

C — Naw! That's about the easiest part of all. Did you ever think about what kids wore back then? It really is kinda funny if you think you could wear the clothes of 1963 today. They would be so funny-looking, people would roll in the halls laughing. Like back then man, it seemed like everybody wore a sweater, a band sweater, their sweaters were more important than class rings.

S — Yeah, I get the point. My brother used to live in his sweater. But what I remember most of all was that all girls wore long dresses and white tennis shoes.

C — That's right. And most girls wore white socks and black tie-down shoes. And wow! What about the boys and their crew-cuts? Would you like to have a hair-cut like that? Do you think that it would fit in?

S — Hey! That really shows a contrast of then and now. What else ya got?

C — If you really wanted to show a contrast of the clothes from 1963 to 1973, you could get two people to dress in the threads of then and now. Man, there would be a difference. I can picture it now. Here you would have a dude from 1963 with his white shirt, his cords with white socks and black shoes. And beside him you would have the dude from '73 with his knit shirt and cuffed baggies with his boots. What a change!

S — What about the school and the classes? I bet I've got you cornered there!

C — I bet you don't even know when the school was completed, do you?

S — '63, when else.

C — That shows how much you know man. Cause it wasn't completed until 1964. In fact the class of '63 graduated at the Junior High.

S — You're jiven Me!??

C — No man! Just look at these pictures then maybe you'll be able to dig it.

S — What about classes? People still learn the same way today man.

C — That may be true but just look at what's offered today. Ten years ago you didn't even hear about an advanced physics class let alone an advanced chemistry class. And while we are on the subject what kind of English classes did you have?

S — English was one of the most boring subjects offered. All we had was reading, spelling, and writing. Boy, was it a drag.

C — Look at the comp. classes today. You're not pressured into taking anything you don't want to. If you don't want to work on that day and you know that you can still make you deadline it's no hassle, you just don't do it. You kinda pace yourself.

S — Sounds like you get to do your own thing. Wish I would've had classes like that.

C — And the organizations! Man, I'll bet you that 10 years ago they wouldn't have thought that FSHS would have its own Chess Club. Today we offer over 29 clubs and the activities that go with them.

S — I've got you where I want you now. What about sports? Basics in sports don't change that much.

C — Oh man, you must think I'm high to believe something like that. Back in '63 we played teams like Muncie Central and Central Catholic. We would beat 'em, and sometimes really bad. But what is really funny is to look at the uniforms and equipment that the teams of '63 used and look at the stuff we use today. Out of sight. Sometimes it's really wild.

S — You've said a lot of things about the school, activities, organizations, and even sports but what about the people? Man, that's the whole thing. How could you even try to show the difference between 'em.

C — That's not as hard as you make it seem. We have kids in the class of '73 with brothers and sisters that graduated in the class of '63. People like: Pete Compton and his brother Mike, Kevin and Cheryl Garrett and their brother Gary, Bill Clark and his sister Patty, and Milo Eldridge and his brother Jim. So all in all we feel that we have covered the majority of the highpoints from '63 to '73. Ya understand?

S — I can dig it.

seniors

This years Senior Class Play was a new and different style for F.S.H.S. A dramatic play portraying the past emotional strain of the infamous Salem witch trials. The cast was led by Steve Bache, Milo Eldridge, Brian McKinzey, Cheryl Pendry, Jane Robison, Cindy Ward and Don Wellen. Martin Henderson proved the acting ability at F.S.H.S. one of the best ever, along with the assistance of student director Pam Tapp. Stage manager, Ron Stevens, House Manager Cheryl Garrett and costume mistress, Andi Williams also made the show a success. Other crew heads were lights — Jeff Sexton, props — Brends McNeal, Make-up — Jacki Gosewehr, and Publicity — Marcia Schimmel. The class of 1973 came through once again.

Graduation with tears in our eyes and smiles on our faces.

Valedictorian, Steve Bache and Salutatorian Bob Dickson led 257 seniors in the 1973 Graduation ceremonies. Each senior received his diploma representing great achievement and recognition of accomplishments made throughout his school years. In the minds of everyone were memories of the past thirteen years of happiness and tears. With the individual graduate closing the first volume of his high-school days, we found each had grown in mind and body. As each senior left FSHS, he left behind an impression, that would encourage future seniors for a life filled with happiness and ambition.

Responsible students led FSHS in an eventful year

Student Council led FSHS in another eventful year, as changes were made and interesting things planned. A few outstanding convocations were a "one man band" and a percussion ensemble. The council also sponsored the Homecoming bonfire and all of the queen courts. All student elections were also led by the student council. We should be proud to have a responsible group of students to fill our school year with enjoyment. Thank you Student Council.

This year National Honor Society consisted of 22 juniors and 39 Seniors, with Mr. Shepard as sponsor. The requirements to be accepted into National Honor is a 3.0 average and a teacher evaluation of the student, based on cooperation, service, character, and leadership. Fund-raising projects included collecting soft drink bottles, and selling cokes and cookies. The money was to be used for a school trip, but a need for more time and more money brought plans to an end.

Girls kept active with many projects

Sunshine was very active and energetic again this year. The club started its year out with the annual Sunshine Picnic which was held in the Sunshine Woods, located behind the school. The picnic was given to introduce new sophmores to Sunshine.

In October the club started its candy sales. This was its main money making project. Also in October were Daddy Date Nite and the District Convention at Clinton Central.

The sophmores were initiated in November and in December the girls decorated the commons area for the holidays, with the help of several Hi-Y boys. The girls also traveled to Logansport Hospital to give a Christmas party for the patients.

During Feburary 5-9 the annual Carnation Sales were held. The girls took orders for flowers during lunch in the commons area. Then on Feburary 14, colorful carnations were delivered to the lucky recipients.

In March Sunshine members campaigned for the office of their choice and were voted on in April. Also in March the girls canvased for Honey Sunday, and went to the state Sunshine Convention at Decature Central High School.

The Ideal Ladies Tea was held in April and the Mother-Daughter Banquet was given in May.

This year Sunshine gave $200 to the Riley Fund, $100 to the Clinton County Hospital and a $200 scholarship to the most deserving senior Sunshine girl.

Boys enjoyed work on many worthwhile projects

This year Hi-Y has been very active. The clubs activities started early this summer when the club officers met and rewrote their constitution.

The club operated the concession stand during the football games last fall and sat an all-time sales record of $307.62 at the Noblesville game. They also held a car bash during the football homecoming bonfire. The club presented the Thanksgiving convocation and ushered at the home basketball games, Sectionals and Regionals. The boys also held three basketball and swimming parties this year.

In the winter the club made food baskets, and delivered toys to thirty homes for Christmas. During this time the club gave $50 to the Clinton County Tuberculosis Association while members helped with the Heart Fund Drive, Humane Society Drive and the Jaycee's Honey Sunday.

This spring Hi-Y sent two delegates to Model Un in Indianapolis, which was held by the YMCA. Hi-Y also held a clean-up project entitled S.O.S. "Save our Sity," on April 28, which students from various clubs in the High School were invited to participate. As they do every year, Hi-Y also went to church as a group once a month.

Girls proved competence in many various sports this year

The Girls Athletic Association participated in what proved to be a very busy year. Four competitive teams matched their athletic talent and wits with member schools as well as the intramural offerings throughout the year. The competitive teams included Volleyball with three wins and four losses, Basketball with an excellent 8-2 record, and also winning a four-way tournament, swimming with one tie and five close losses, and last the track team who also did a fine job this year.

This year the IHSAA sponsored a state tournament in volleyball in which Frankfort participated. The annual GAA coffeehouse was also a success this year with many talents portrayed by FSHS girls. Another interesting highlight was a Mother-Daughter Awards banquet, which honored GAA girls for a successful year. These included Marcie Crabtree as the outstanding senior, Pam Mitchell — Volleyball, Marcie Crabtree — Basketball, Julie Conard — Swimming and Nancy Conklin — Track.

Scholarship awarded

The Frankfort Lettermens Club held meetings regularly and served donuts at every meeting. The F Club was led by Senior President Greg Beard, and accompanied by fellow officers, Jay Shanks, Vice-President; Ron Addatto, Secretary; and Steve Cunningham, Sergeant at arms.

Several projects for the school year 72-73 were and debated. Such ideas included: a field trip to the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Canton, Ohio, and to see the Cincinnati Reds play the Padres at Riverfront Stadium, Cincinnati, Ohio.

For the second year the F Club presented a scholarship to an athlete who was approved by the faculty and administration with a high scholastic standing.

72-73 proved to be another fine year

In 1972-73 Key Club experienced another great year as the club began new projects. A few of the projects were teaching the mentally handicapped to play basketball, and sponsoring a convocation featuring Ann Henning, Olympic Gold Medalist. Key Club also delivered circulars, set up for Blood Bank and rang the bell at Christmas for the Salvation Army. Annual events were a Hay Ride, Christmas Carolling party, and a Senior banquet for graduating Seniors. It was a good year for Key Club and paved the way towards future goals.

Several of these projects included the Remedial Reading and Math Program, the school clean-up, operating of the concession stands during the Regionals, delivering signs for the United Funds, a door to door Cystic Fibrosis Drive, and parties and dinners for the County Home. Some other projects were; being Santa's helpers, answering Santa's letters, sacking candy for the boys at the Boys Club, making clothes for dolls for the Salvation Army and the annual door to door Honey Sunday Drive.

Swimming lessons offered to community children

The object of the Frankfort Guard was to teach all Learn-to-Swim classes. The Guard held classes every Saturday morning again this year, and also will hold a summer swimming class. The Guard helped the Boys and Girls Scouts earn their Merit Badge in swimming.

Frankfort Guard also sponsors a fall and spring Square Dance yearly and the club goes to the Indiana Sand Dunes for a camp out every September.

To become a member of the Frankfort Guard one must attend training sessions which include instructions in techniques of swimming and life saving.

The center of entertainment was activity

Annual events of French Club were a trip to the Indianapolis Art Museum and French Dinner at the Country Club. It seemed the serving of chocolate eclairs was the most celebrated event of all.

Spanish Club and French Club planned a combined picnic last spring. Both French and Spanish Clubs contributed financially to the awards given on Senior Honors Day.

Fourth year entertained at a club meeting by doing skits in spanish and leading members in spanish songs.

THE HIGH LIFE

Vol. 56

FRANKFORT, INDIANA, SEPTEMBER 5, 1972-May 25, 1973

No. 1-16

1972-73 . . . A very productive year

This year the High Life has continued traditional stories but has also experimented with many new ideas.

The 1972-73 High Life has tried to inform students on every aspect of what has happened at FSHS. Through the High Life, students have been able to learn the facts behind subjects which range from Big Broadcast to Chess Club.

In the area of editorials, the staff members have tried to write on subjects which directly concern students. Among the editorial subjects used were abortion, the Equal Rights Amendment, the position of minor sports at FSHS, and homeroom.

We have tried to be the voice of the 801 students at FSHS by publishing letters to the editor and by supporting, through editorials, issues which we felt had the support of a majority of the student body. An example of this was seen in the Dec. 1 issue of the paper. We devoted a page and a half to an editorial criticizing the administration's stand on homeroom, accompanied by a petition and the names of 410 student signers. This was the first campaign of its kind ever printed in the High Life. Partly because of its influence, a student committee was organized to review the homeroom system, which was changed Feb. 23 from 30 minutes each Monday and Thursday to the student-approved 70 minutes on Friday.

Another feature, seen on page three, was the Teacher/Student of The Week column, which gave recognition to students and teachers who were outstanding.

A new item on the sports page was a series of interviews with FSHS athletes. Although this was in an experimental stage this year, it is being considered as a regular feature in next year's High Life.

High Life sports gave equal coverage to all sports, whether they were considered "major" or "minor." We hope we have given students a new insight into athletics at FSHS.

We will always try new ideas in the High Life, but we hope the purpose of the paper never changes. That is the obligation to give the students of FSHS a complete and interesting guide to the people and events that make up our high school.

FHS students assume High Life positions

The following nine people, working together, made last year's High Life possible.

The editor was Jacque Ham. Jacque's job was primarily to oversee all planning and production, and to edit all copy handed in by staff reporters.

Marcia Puttman served as feature editor. Marcia planned and wrote most of the third page material.

Vickie Price served as advertising manager. Her job was to sell advertising, set ad copy, and keep all records in order.

A reporter, Brenda Peak, gathered and wrote first and second page news and was in charge of the new Tid-Bits column.

Steve Galvin, also a reporter, wrote all major sports copy and was fourth page editor frequently.

Reporter Phil Tudor wrote minor sports copy and many of the major editorials published in The High Life.

Another reporter, Keith Cripe, wrote various kinds of copy, ranging from academics to feature and sports stories.

Photography was handled by Michele Hodge first semester and by Allen McCormack second semester.

Members enjoyed many interesting plays this year

This year the Drama Club has been a very enthusiastic and energetic group. Their main activities included ringing the bell for the Salvation Army, during Christmas, and a tour of the Purdue University Theater.

The club also saw many plays this year. These included DEATH OF A SALESMAN, TWIGS, MISS REARDOR DRINKS A LITTLE, GEORGE M, GODSPELL, and CYANO DE BERGERAC. An advantage of being a member was that the members usually got a ticket discount and the Drama department usually paid half the ticket cost.

Objectivity and relativity explored by probing students

The Math-Science club had several guest speakers this year who spoke on subjects related to the Math-Science fields.

The club's main object was to explore the physical, chemical and biological sciences, and the many different areas of mathematics. To be a member one needed to be majoring in either Mathematics and/or Science.

The club gave an award this year to the top student in a Math or Science field.

Students planned for futures in teaching careers

Future Teachers of America encouraged students for the teaching career. Mrs. Buck along with President Jill Berry led the club to a successful year. One of the many activities this year was a chili supper which was served before a basketball game and proved an asset to the club. Another event was a trip to a state college. This years selection — Purdue University gave students an awareness for college life.

Club meetings were varied with different programs throughout the year. These programs included, Mrs. Gibbs, who spoke on college, and Mrs. Kersey, who spoke on teaching the Special Education classes. The major activity for F. T. A. was exploratory teaching in which senior members taught at each grade school and also at Junior High.

Students helped and learned in offices throughout FSHS

This year at FSHS, students helped in many areas throughout the school. Students ran errands and typed tests for teachers. Girls who wanted to pursue a medical career learned through experience by working in the nurses office. In the main office, both boys and girls collected attendance slips, answered telephone calls and delivered messages. In the P. E. offices the assistants, among other things, demonstrated difficult activities and graded papers. In the counselors office the helpers delivered guidance passes as to appointment.

Girls explored fundamentals of married life through participation in many club activities.

This year FHA's main money making project was selling candles. This money was used to finance FHA's projects this year, including the Mother-Daughter Tea.

The club had many interesting programs during their meetings. These included a fashion show by Mr. Blakely, a sweetheart and promise ring display by Mr. Ellis and a china display by Mrs. Caddell.

In the spring a Senior Banquet was held to honor graduating Seniors. The new officers were also installed at this time. A club dinner was held for old and new members.

Students expand musical knowledge

The F # Club this year consisted of 35 members from orchestra, band and choir. The meetings, which were held during home room every two weeks were sponsored by Aden K. Long. During these meetings the club played music and listened to records. For entertainment the club played a musical game, "Guess the Composer".

This year F # sponsored a Rock Concert featuring "Orange Post Road", which was held in the FSHS auditorium on May 11, 1973. The club also held a bake sale to raise money to see a performance in the spring. F # members also helped with the publicity of the Big Broadcast.

Competition was stiff at state convention

Many girls were busy this year as they attended the Regional Meeting at Tipton on October 10. Girls were busy with projects such as a Bake Sale and the selling of Tom Watt Kits.

Several members attended the Regional Contest held at Tipton in February. Six girls won awards. This event enabled girls to compete at the State Convention held in Indianapolis.

May 15th an Employee's Banquet was held. Nominations for best employer were held, voted upon, and a plaque was given to the Employer of the year.

Main project for the year was service

FBLA's second year proved an active one. They achieved many goals including quite a few service projects, some of which were paper drives, the selling of Christmas wrapping paper, and a Cystic Fibrosis Ride-A-Thon. In the spring, they sponsored a Typing Contest for beginning and advanced typists which was the final project of the 1972-73 year.

The 1972-73 B-team and Varsity cheerleaders were selected in the spring of 1972. During the summer B-team cheerleaders attended camp at Vincennes University. Varsity cheerleaders attended Smith-Walbridge Camp and won 4 first places, 1 second place and 3 spirit sticks. They were also one of eight schools chosen to compete for the Coca-Cola Award.

During Nov. both B-team and Varsity attended a cheer clinic at Kokomo with Varsity placing seventh out of 28 other competing schools.

FRANKFORT! FRANKFORT! FRANKFORT!

Pep Club activities included the making of signs and hoops for sports, night meetings, the decoration for Homecomings, plays and Big Broadcast. All were a part of life in the halls of FSHS kept alive by members of the pep block.

We of the Cauldron Staff would like to acknowledge our esteem for Pep Club. Their spirited efforts brought to many the happiness of personal triumph which they could not have attained without Pep Block.

Practice kept them on their toes

Puppettes were kept on their toes this season as they had performances week after week. Practices continued on Wednesdays and many times extra practice sessions were called. Learning and performing were not the only things they worried about. Costumes were constantly being made. Puppettes had a great year & here's hopin' for many as fantastic as this years.

Membership required talent and involved a tuff schedule

Concert Choir membership was determined through audition and many received choral training in class prior to the audition. Activities this year included the School Christmas Program, Big Broadcast, Spring Music Festival, state and district solo and ensemble contest, and Christmas programs with Baccalaureate and Commencement the final presentation.

Swing Choir was a select group chosen through audition judged not only for vocal quality and ability but also stage appearance. They received an excellant rating at the State Contest. They also took a Spring tour of all five grade schools.

Musicians demonstrate musical achievements with diligence

The blue and white band had another successful year under the direction of band director, Aden K. Long. This year the band participated in the Veteran's Day parade, the Christmas parade and also the football Homecoming parade. Other activities performed, included, pre-game and a half time show at each football game, also at the basketball games and at pep sessions, and also in the spring concert. The band, as usual, sponsored the Bid Broadcast, "I Believe in Music" and portrayed it in a professional manner. Another major event was the district and state, Solo-ensemble contests, in which the band received numerous honors.

These are just a few of the activities which assists our band in being one of the best bands around. Let's be proud of the FSHS blue and white band as they continue to meritoriously represent our school in music.

Provides the final music for the class of 1973

The Senior High Orchestra had another busy year under the direction of James Higgins. Activities this year included, background music for the Fall Musical; a Christmas Concert; and the Solo & Ensemble district and state contest. Orchestra provided music for the State Junior Miss Pageant; and they toured the elementary schools. The final performance of the year was at graduation, where they provided the processional, and recessional music for the Senior class of 1973.

Squad earned first in state

The Frankfort ROTC drill team held its place as first in the state for the third year in a row again this year. Frankfort's ROTC unit, which is the smallest unit in Indiana, has never been defeated by any school drill team that has competed with the Frankfort unit.

This year the team competed in six high school drill meets. The team competed in the Purdue University Drill Meet and came in second behind Ohio State University. The Frankfort unit was the only high school drill team that was invited to compete in the meet. They altered their first platoon drill team in the University of Western Kentucky Invitational Drill Meet and won first place. They pulled another first in Color Guard and a second with their squad drill team coming in behind Castle Heights Military Academy.

This year the varsity drill team was commanded by Cadet Captain Richard Rutherford and the "B" team was commanded by Cadet Sergeant Michael Perry.

Cadets kept busy with meets

Each year, Sword and Shield prepares a Drill Meet which all high schools from Indiana are invited to participate. The club takes care of all procedures for the Meet, including refreshments, directions for mobile traffic, and security.

The club also arranged the Military Ball, held each year, for the Cadets of Jr. ROTC. The club was solely responsible for the band, decorations, picture arrangements, program, Master of Ceremonies, security and ticket sales.

The above are the two major activities that the club undertakes each year, but the club had many other activities. For one, it sold cokes at the ball games to help obtain the money needed to carry out functions, such as the ball.

To be a member of the club, you must have one of the following qualifications: been of the rifle team and have gone to state, or have been a member of the drill team and competed in a meet, or have been in Color Guard and performed at a game, or have been an officer or a top NCO.

13 industrious students proved hard work rewarding

Editor Cheryl Garrett and assistant Jacki Gosewehr, guided the 1972-1973 Cauldron Staff in an exciting and active year. Many extra evenings were spent during the year writing copy, cropping pictures and drawing lay-outs. Mr. Haase the Cauldron Sponsor led the staff in his third consecutive year. He offered advice and new ideas for the yearbook throughout the year.

Many changes were introduced in the book this year by thirteen enthusiastic members. Color and the number of pages were changed and the Opening Section Committee decided on a '63 foldout. The book was increased in both size and content, the result of many long hours of work.

The 1972-1973 Cauldron staff would like to take this space to thank Mr. John Haase for another job well done. In the three years Mr. Haase had advised the CAULDRON staff, tremendous improvement has been made. For three years the book has promised to be the best ever, and through assistance from Mr. Haase the staff succeeded in that goal. We are proud to have been a part of the CAULDRON staff and to have worked with such a professional advisor.

Mr. Haase, thanks again for your patience, personality, and guidance throughout your 3 years at FSHS. We love you!

ACADEMICS

The academic Area of the school has also changed in ten years. In ten years the school has adopted many new classes. These include Advanced Chemistry, Advanced Physics, Basic Math, two classes of Algebra, and a Pilot Program of the Phase Elective course in English.

Much stress was put on the teachers this year as they were reevaluated by the North Central Evaluation Team. But hard work and the extra hours paid off as they were rated very high in the evaluation.

Phase Elective Program took students by surprise

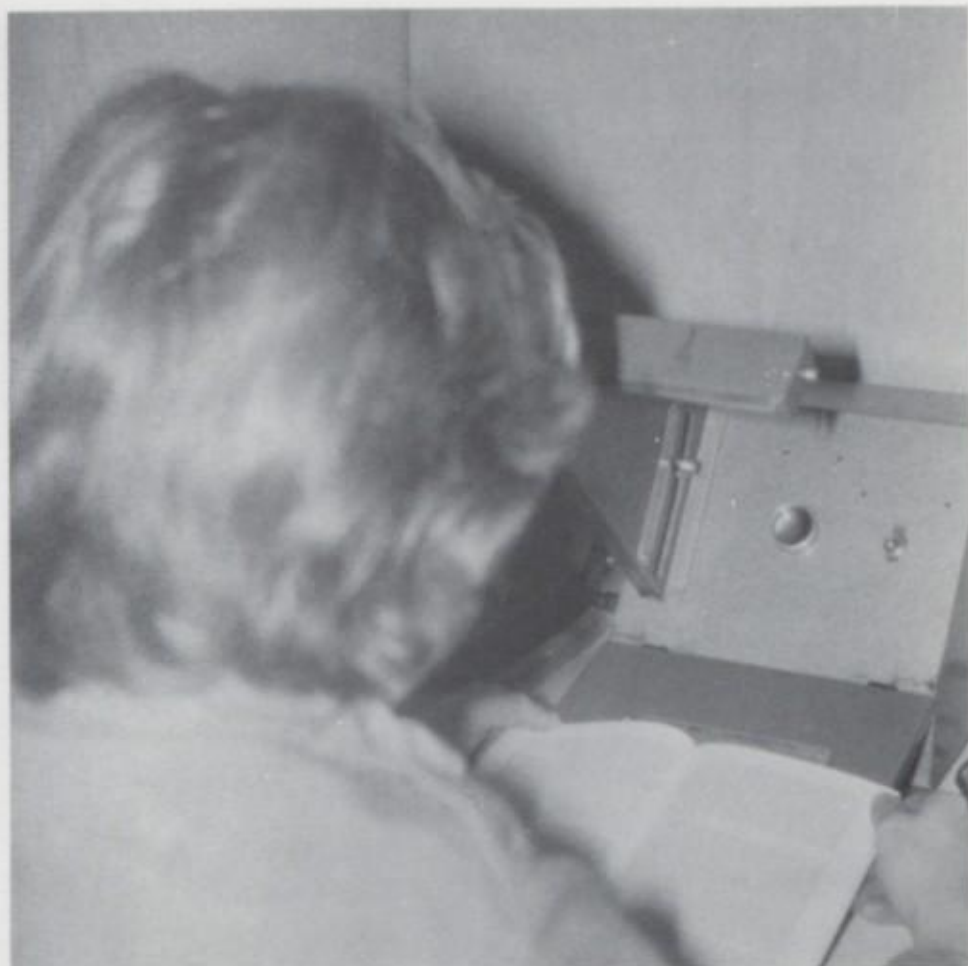

The English Department put heads together and found a way to liven up the dull, traditional English curriculum. The new Phase Elective Program enabled students a choice of many varied subject areas. The pilot program offered courses such as; Anti Heroes, Who Am I, Contemporary Novels and seven others. Regular English classes were offered with some inovation such as Mr. Haase's student course control system, and independent research and study analysis which were offered in several other classes. Senior English classes varied their experiences in advanced work.

Aid given by show and tell of video tape and live broadcasting by student D.J.'s

This year's Radio-T.V. classes proved a great help to other curriculum areas by video taping class instruction and providing the classroom with educational programs taped from national television. Also, sports events and extra curricular activities were taped serving as major laboratory experiences. These programs were viewed by students at the junior high and senior high during lunch periods.

Action — Projection — concentration — success all were needed

This year the speech and drama classes were very active. Students in all classes took on laboratory work using the stage during class time to help prepare for the fall musical. Some skits done in the Big Broadcast were performed by students from speech and drama classes. Students from these classes were chosen to work as a crew for the technical aspects of the local and state Junior Miss pageants. Speech students learned much about the art of public speaking and the drama students highlighted their year by performing a children's play.

Foreign Dialects and customs left lasting impressions

Change seemed to be the "in thing" in the language department this year as classes were revised and programs within the classes updated. Classes became more interesting especially during the holidays and tourney time. Students enjoyed the excitement of getting involved during Spirit Week, for example, fourth year Spanish class made a giant mobile to wish the Hot Dogs Good Luck. Also, many classes participated in providing entertainment during Language Club meetings by doing comedy skits in their respective languages. This along with many other activities made the year muy agradable.

Search for man's place in society-emphasized by class discussion

Not only were the basics of History taught in the classes this year, but to the students' advantage they were taught the importance of playing the game of Risk, taking part in a trial, and the legal operation of a guillotine. The year was full of fun, surprises, and changes. The department lost Mr. Grau, whose place was taken over by Mr. Adamson who was a full time physical education teacher last year. One of the Senior classes went to Indianapolis and met the Governor; while other classes made field trips and entertained guest speakers.

Students worked with formulas, force, drugs, and weather

In the Chemistry World this year students had a variety of experience in volume-weight equations, formulas and experiments. The Physic classes had labs involving force and applied equations.

Earth Science classes studied stratosphere, earth structure and the world around them. The Narcotics classes learned about dangerous drugs and their abuse.

Math students build on knowledge

Mathematicians this year dealt with the fundamentals of General Math and Algebra. In Geometry, the classes worked with areas and circumference of a rectangle. The Junior Math Classes studied trigonometric functions and quadratic formulas. Students in Senior Math used logarithmic functions in their daily school work.

Speed and efficiency characterize a growing profession

This year C.O.E. won 2 trophies and several ribbons in typing, bookkeeping and filing. In Office Practice, headed by Mrs. Wilma Mott, a new member to the staff, students got to know the feeling of an office situation. First year typing students worked on a manual typewriter to learn the fundamentals for advanced typing. The second year typing students typed on electric typewriters and studied the more detailed areas of typing. First year shorthand classes studied long, hard hours learning the characters and brief forms, while second year worked more with improving their speed. The business world is growing each year in size and ideas.

The roar of industry spread its cover of progress over FSHS

This year the Industrial Arts classes again, as in years past, gained valuable experience under expert leadership of skilled teachers. Electronics classes made radios while some even made a model house with complete wiring. Drafting classes learned the techniques of professional drawings that really LOOKED professional! Auto Mechanics learned the business of professional car maintenance. In printing, common every day boys were turned into printers by learning to set type, develop photos, burn plates and run the presses. Machine Shop boys learned to run lathes, welders, grinders, and drill presses by doing independent projects. One common element found in all Industrial Arts classes was safety as witnessed by protective goggles, hair nets, and aprons.

Competition was seen between boys and girls Home Ec.

It seemed as if the boys and girls Home Ec. classes were competing to see who could out sew the other. It is debatable which class won. The cooking classes turned out many good smelling delights which led students down the hall by their noses. Both cooking and sewing classes did interesting things, including field trips to such places as Indianapolis and their annual luncheon to the Key West Shrimp House. Fashion shows were put on by the clothing classes in front of faculty and friends. One change made in the Home Ec. Department was the loss of Mrs. Trees after the first semester and the gain of Mrs. Bublitiz

Out of nothing emerged substance

Picasso himself must have been outdone this year by the looks of the excellent paintings, leather-works, sketches and sculpturing which were turned out this year by our fine Art Department. There were fine displays made, which many comic strips were received with much laughter. Also constructed was a unique robot in the commons area can honestly be said that the students learned a lot from the teachings of Mr. Swicki.

Cadets collide and compete for top titles

The Frankfort ROTC again was a very active class under the new leadership of Lt. Col. Thomas Fulton with returning Master Sargent Richard Peterson. The cadets were worked, drilled and inspected under actual army regulation. The drill team competed throughout the state. First place was lost by two points when they competed with college teams at Purdue University last February. Gary Myers received second in the knockout drill against 135 other cadets, most of whom were collegiate. Again the FSHS Cadets had a very rewarding year.

Students found help as volumes were added

The Frankfort Senior High School Library strives for improvement every year. This year Mrs. Montgomery added 76 fiction, 210 non-fiction, and 92 reference books to the then nearly 10,000 volumes. Student librarians were again used to help in the usual library duties: book shelving, front desk operations, student and teacher assistance, and audio-visual scheduling.

The library was the center of all learning experiences as it served as the hub for research and general reading.

Pride and triumph — final results of hard work and long hours of practicing

The Frankfort Senior High School music department offered great opportunities for the students interested in developing talents in this area. The department instructed music appreciation, band, stage band, for those who swing toward dance music, orchestra, chorus, choir, and swing choir, for those who enjoy performing in a small more professional secular singing groups. Not only did class instruction involve methodology, but the love for and beauty of music was emphasized. Much class time was used preparing for the many performances and contests through the year. If a student wants to excell in music, Frankfort Senior High School Music Department is the place to begin.

Speed and agility were final results of a year of hard work

The Physical Education classes added one new teacher to their staff, Mr. Wayne Singer. Among many other activities, he taught basketball, and first aid. The boys spent many hours in the pool under the direction of Mr. Harp. In the girls P.E. classes, led by Miss Ratliff and Miss Rosenbaum, they enjoyed bowling, gymnastic and swimming. Both boys and girls spent class time playing ping-pong, tennis and volleyball.

Sports

During this school year of 1972-73, the mighty Hot Dogs were the biggest and the best ever. We can really be proud of our guys this year, for many placed on all-conference teams.

When the basketball season finally rolled around the guys showed everyone just exactly what kind of a team they were, with a very good finishing season of 13-7. Including the sectional victories, they finished a total season of 16-8.

Hot Dogs had it in their hearts to win.

Racketmen stroked a 3rd in Sagamore Conference

A young tennis squad came out of the 1972 season with a 3-1-9 record. With only two seniors, three juniors, four sophomores, and two freshmen, the Hotdogs finished third in the Sagamore Conference. The young squad was also under a new coach this year, Mr. Wayne Singer, who took over Mr. Milholland's position as coach for four years.

Starting off the season by a loss to Lafayette Jefferson, the racketmen came back to win their next two matches against Brownsburg and Lebanon. The only other victory of the year was against Nobelsville. Other exciting matches, led by number one man Steve Glover, were lost to Carmel, and Crawfordsville by only one heart-breaking point.

Led by seniors harriers had winning season

The Frankfort Senior High School Cross Country team once again proved to be more than tough in team competition this year. Under Coach Kersey, practices were more intense and based on preparation. In the long run the tough practices paid off by bringing the harriers another fine season. Led by 3 year letterman Steve Bache and Steve Beardsley the dogs proved consistent all year. They received strong support from underclassmen Dave Moore, Dave Crowell, and Joe Catron.

Wolverines win over Bache's Sheep by forfeit

The animals were turned loose for the wildest competition ever, during the winter's basketball season at Lincoln School. Yes, intramural basketball was very popular this year with such names as: Roos, Guppies, Rats, Mice, Sheep, Koalas, and Woverines. With the sponsors Mr. Ron Shepard and Mr. Gary Craig as referees, the boys learned the fun of sportsmanship basketball mixed with the art of "rule bending" from time to time. Many lasting friendships were made during the triumphs and defeats of this basketball season.

Seniors led team with undying pride and determination

The Hot Dogs received their first loss to Lebanon in three years by a score of 9-6, then finish with a less than desirable season of 2 wins and 7 losses. The wins included Clinton Central 21-0 and Benton Central 19-16.

The Hot Dogs placed 2 boys on the Sagamore all conference team Senior Ron Addatto and Junior Jay Huddleston. There were several other boys who made honorable mention to the team; Seniors Pat Brittain, Ken Hall, and Dave Ricker.

Hotdog wrestlers have best season in Hotdog history

This season was one of the grappler's finest seasons. Under the supervision of head coach Dan DeGenova and Assistant coach Jeff Rampaula, the team finished with a winning season of 11-2.

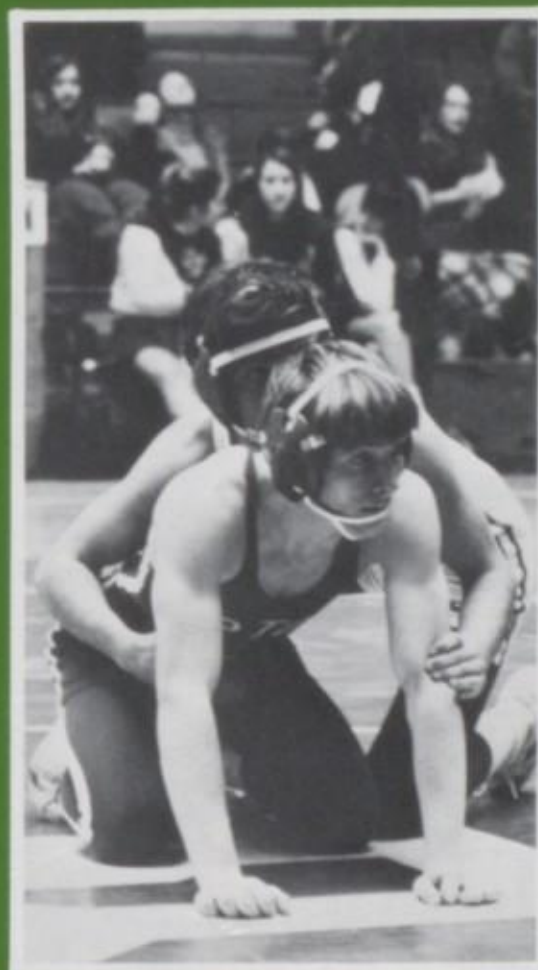

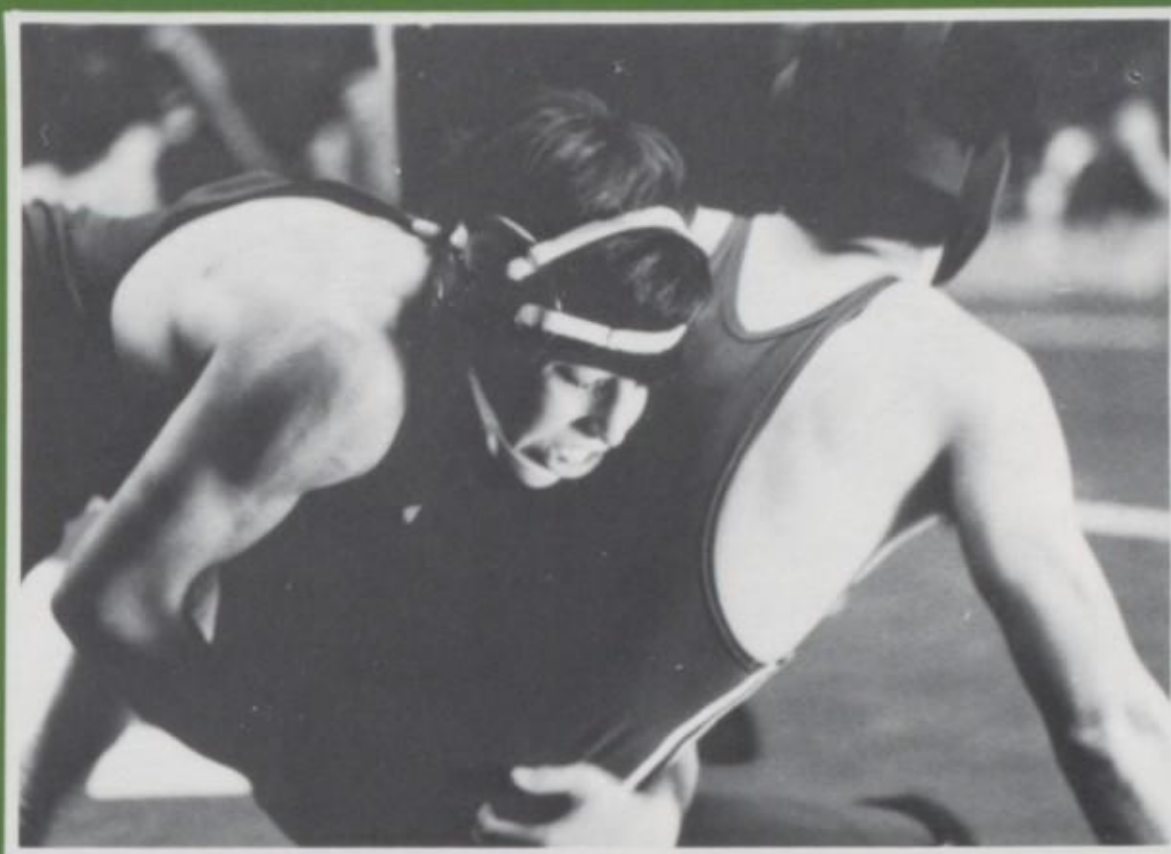

In the sectional competition, Frankfort placed third out of ten with Jay Shanks winning his weight class and Ken Hall, Jeff Martain, and Bob Smith placing second. Shanks, Hall, Martain, and Smith also competed for titles in the regional tournament.

The grapplers look forward to an even greater season next year with many team members returning.

Hotdogs finished the season at 13-7.

The varsity basketball team finished with an impressive 13-7 record in regular season play. The B-team also compiled an outstanding season record of 16-2, with loses by only one point to West Lafayette and by two points to Lafayette Jeff.

The season started out quick as the Hotdogs, minus starter Dave Ricker, won their first five games of the season. The first loss went to Logansport and the other six seemed to follow throughout the middle of the season. But the fighting five pulled it all together as their second sectional victory reveals.

1. Dave Ricker saves the ball from out-of-bounds. 2. Carmel's 6'11" Bill Lake (53) watches as Mike Ostler goes up for two. 3. Helping with the balls during warm-ups are managers Don Stock and Joey Helm. 4. Bush Fullerton shoots for two against Carmel. 5. Guard Pete Compton steals the ball for an easy layup. 6. Rick Wade shoots for two more of his many points of the season. 7. Trying to steal the ball from an aggressive Tipton player is Ron Best. 8. Guard Mike Ostler goes up for a basket. 9. Up goes Jay Huddleston for two from a steal. 10. Walking back to the bench is Coach John Milholland, disappointed by the call of the referees. 11. Andy Scott tries for a basket as Steve Beardsley prepares to assist on the possible rebounds.

Tankmen completed winning season capturing Sagamore for fourth year

The Frankfort Tankmen paddled their way to a winning season this year, with an 8 win, 3 loss record. They also successfully won the conference for the fourth year in a row.

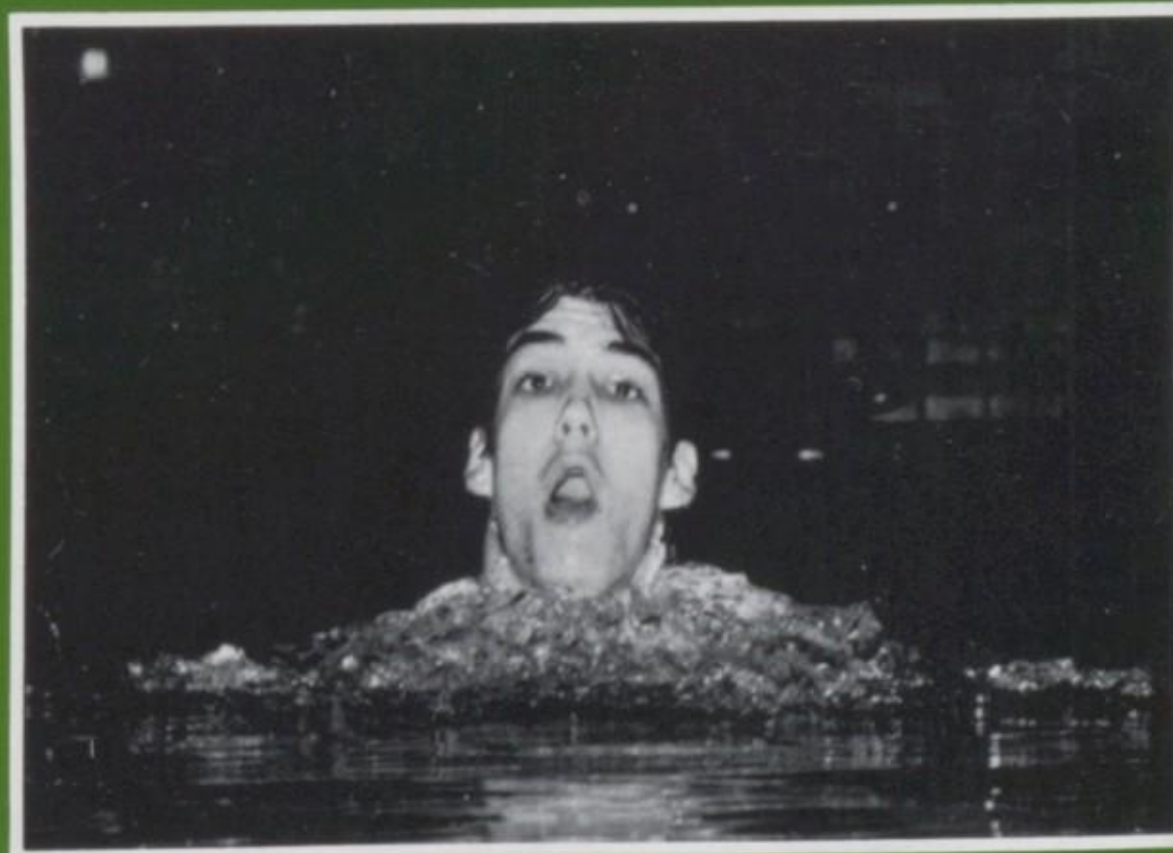

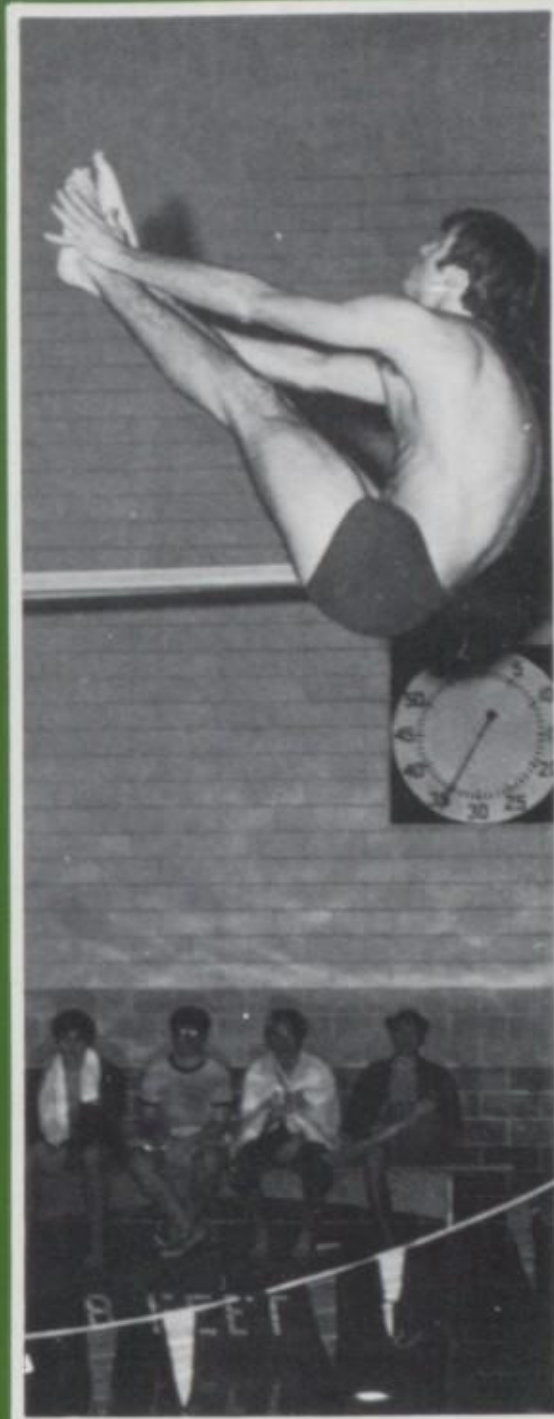

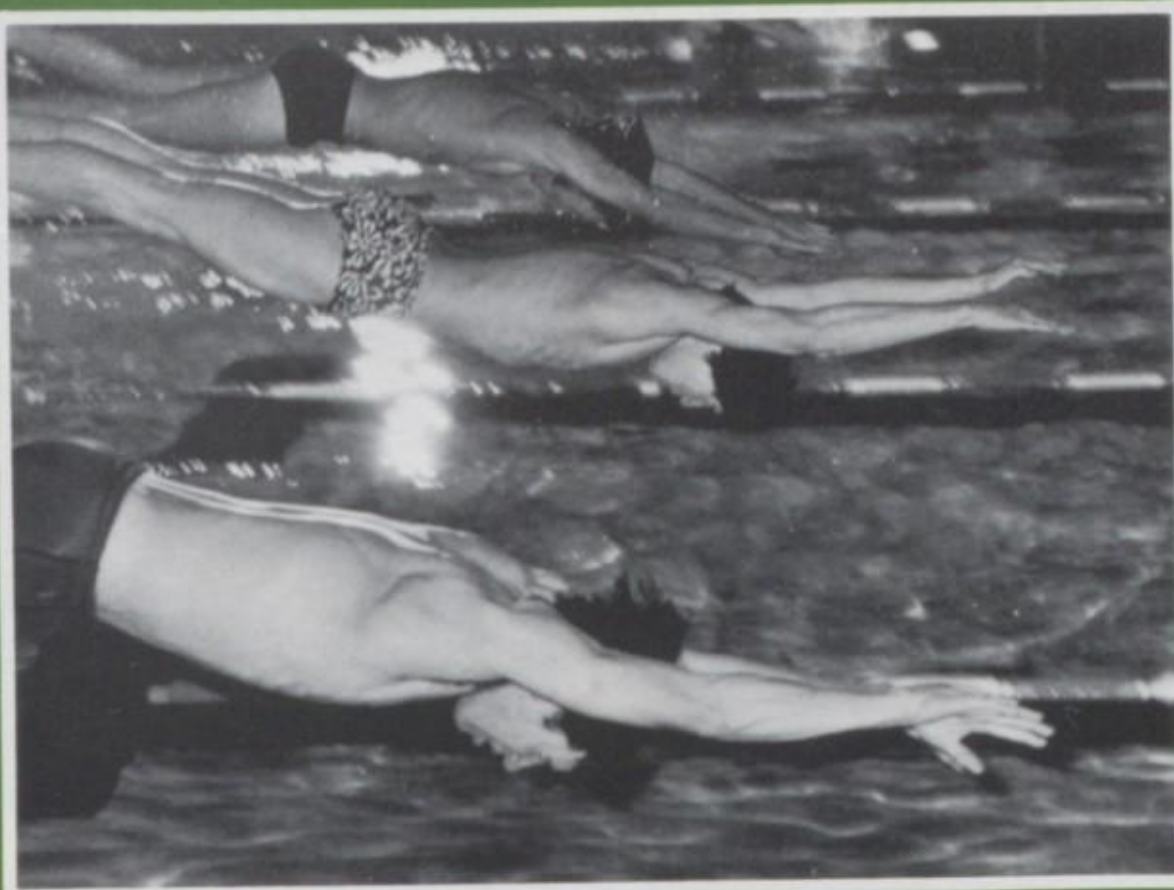

Many pool and individual records were broken again this year. One of the tankmen's toughest meets was with the victory over Anderson and they are looking forward to an even better season next year. Several team men were sent to, and placed in the state meet; they were Bob Dixon, John Kay, and Ray Lohsl. Led by coach Phil Harp the Frankfort tankmen placed 14 in state ranking, higher than many larger schools.

Mike Lukasik — Page's first regional winner!

Each year Mr. Page sets as the track team's goals important meets which must be won. These meets included the Frankfort Relays, the Nobelsville Big "5", the Sagamore Conference, the Central Indiana Conference, and the new attraction this year — the Clinton County meet. This year the team won both the Frankfort Relays and the first county meet. The team placed second in the Central Indiana Conference and performed admirably in the Big "5" Meet. The team was plagued all season long with injuries and probably never reached its full potential.

There were three new records set during the season. Seniors John Gunyon and Tom Stevens set records in the high jump and pole vault respectively. Senior Mike Lukasik placed first in the 440 in the regional in record time and competed in the state meet held at North Central High School, Indianapolis, Indiana.

FSHS linkmen bettered last years' 313 mark by six skillful strokes.

The Frankfort Hog Dog Golf Team completed a most successful season with a 9 win — 3 loss record, and by also placing a choking 4th in the Sagamore Conference. The linkmen — composed of a smaller but mightier team than last year's — broke several previous records. Under the supervision of head coach, Larry Adamson and assistant coach, Graig Mundell, Perry Norris and Dave Moore were the top scorers. The golfers looked forward to a most successful sectional which was held at Logansport. The linkmen anticipate a promising year in 74, with many men returning; and the coaching staff has it rumored it will be.

Hot Dog bats capture Sagamore baseball crown; 1973

The Frankfort baseball squad headed by coach Wayne Davis and assistant coaches Ted Woolver and Richard Goul; brought together on overall record for the year of eight wins and ten losses; although forfeiting three games because of an inelligible player. Also our first nine games were cancelled because of incimate weather, but were played at a later date. The team had high hopes for a favorable placing in the sectional which was played in June. Frankfort and Brownsburg tied for the conference title with a record of four-one.

Richard Goul's "B" team ended their baseball season with a one-two record, with six games being cancelled.

The Class of '74' — a great future generation

The Junior class was involved in almost all school projects. They were held responsible for the Junior-Senior Prom which this year, as always, turned out to be a great success. Junior boys made their contribution to the varsity teams with the class backing them all the way. They expressed their spirit by receiving first place on the creation of their Homecoming float with "I Frankfort Take Thee, Anthenians" as their theme. The class of '74' played an outstanding role in the progress of our High School and our community.

Sophomores contribute grandly to FSHS family

The class of '75" represented spirit and enthusiasm during the year. Besides showing interest in academics, they also participated in varsity sports. Sophomores used originality on their Homecoming float by creating "Flush Those Athenians". The class presented a new idea, by designing an official school ring for FSHS marking its one hundredth birthday in 1975. The class joined in the fun of the presentation of the "All-School Play" as well as contributing to many school organizations.

The class was led by Joe Risse; President, John Rose; Vice-President, Ria Albano; Secretary, Becky Russell; Treasurer, who helped to produce this most fine sophomore class.

School workers help make 72-73 year successful

FSSHS was once again run smoothly with the help of the school workers. The office secretaries and custodians accomplished daily routines with ease. The cafeteria workers added something new — the satellite program and the type A lunch. The bus drivers did another fine job carrying students to and from school. Many of the drivers took students and teachers on field trips during the year.

The following section shows the fine support rendered the 1973 CAULDRON by the Frankfort City and County merchants. It is the hope of all yearbook staffs that advertising provide one half the funds needed to produce the yearbook. We are most happy that this has been the tradition for the past 4 years.

The monetary budget this year was $5,380. The figure was determined by the cover design, amount of color used in opening section and theme.
